Exhibition

Weldon Roman Villa
Starts Saturday 29th February 2020
Ends Saturday 27th June 2020

Weldon Roman Villa situated in what was once known as Little Weldon and is now part of Weldon Village has sat hidden from view for over a thousand years. The villa was excavated in the early 1950’s by archaeologists, revealing a villa and outbuildings along with mosaics and a Roman Bath. The exhibition will have items from the dig including coins and plaster from the interior walls still showing their original colour. There will also be a scale model of what the villa looked like.

Come along and see just what a special place this must have been when the Romans occupied this part of the world nearly 2000 years past.

All exhibitions are subject to change on occasion.
